SUMMARY OF INFORMATION FOR BUYERS

REGISTERING TO BID

New clients must register online to bid (whether in person or in absentia). This can be done via our website www.noonans.co.uk

Registrations will be subject to due diligence and Noonans reserves the right to cancel registrations.

Once registered, any client bidding for the first time online will need to enter their card details so that a security check can be performed to authorise you to bid (www.noonans.co.uk >Your Account > Account Authorisation). This check is secure, your card details are not seen by us and no funds will be deducted.

BIDDING PRIORITY

Please note that we prioritise executing commission bids as early as possible in order to secure the lot for you at the cheapest possible price. It is therefore entirely possible that a lot can sell at your top bid to another bidder. To avoid this happening we offer an optional 'Plus 1' bidding increment facility, whereby if the bidding is against you at your maximum bid the auctioneer will execute one further bid on your behalf. Please note that in the event of identical top bids priority is given to the first bid received.

PLACING BIDS

LIVE BIDDING VIA WWW.NOONANS.CO.UK

You may bid in real time from your computer or mobile device. We provide an optional live video and audio feed of the auctioneer, allowing you to participate in much the same way as attending the auction. You may see your invoice and pay online directly after you've finished bidding. There is no additional charge for this facility.

ADVANCE BIDDING VIA WWW.NOONANS.CO.UK

We strongly advise this method if you wish to leave bids in advance as it is the easiest, most accurate and flexible way to leave your bids and gives you total control over them right up to the point that the lot is offered for sale. Bids made online cannot be seen by others and only become live at the point the lot is being sold. Up until this time your bids can be easily altered or cancelled. An automated email is sent to confirm any changes made. There is no additional charge for online bidding.

ADVANCE BIDDING VIA POST, EMAIL OR TELEPHONE

Whilst we are still happy to execute all bids submitted to us using post, email or telephone, it should be noted that all bids left with us in these ways will be entered at our offices using exactly the same bidding facility to which all our clients have access. There is, therefore, no better way of ensuring the accuracy of your advance bids than to place them yourself online.

If you are registered with Noonans you may bid by email to bids@noonans.co.uk or by telephone to 020 7016 1700. All bids placed by email or telephone must be received before 4 PM on the day preceding the sale.

A bidding form is included in the back of this catalogue. If you wish to use this please fill it in carefully, to include all relevant information. Please ensure that you post this form so that it arrives, at the latest, the day before the sale.

BIDDING IN THE AUCTION ROOM

You are very welcome to attend the auction and bid in person if you are registered with Noonans.

Please note that the auction room is situated on the third floor of a Georgian building which doesn't have a lift. You may pay for and collect your lots during the auction.

SALEROOM NOTICES

Should the description of a lot need to be amended after the publication of this catalogue, the amendments will appear automatically on the Noonans website, www.noonans.co.uk. All such amendments are also incorporated in the List of Saleroom Notices pertaining to this auction which are posted separately on the website. The auctioneer will refer to any notices at the time any affected lot is offered for sale.

CATALOGUE ILLUSTRATIONS & THE INTERNET

Prospective bidders are reminded that the Noonans website features high-resolution colour illustrations of every lot in this auction. There may also be additional illustrations of any lot.

BUYERS' PREMIUM

The rate for this sale is 24% of the Hammer Price (+ VAT where applicable).

IMPORTATION VAT

Lots marked 'X' are subject to importation VAT of 5% on the Hammer Price unless re-exported outside the UK, as per Noonans Terms & Conditions of Business.

From 1 January 2021 importation VAT may be levied by EU countries on lots sold by Noonans and subsequently imported into those countries. Although Noonans is unable to advise buyers on customs regulations in their country of domicile, there is further information regarding EU importation VAT rates for collectable items in the Terms and Conditions published on the Noonans website.

BULLION LOTS

Lots marked 'G' will have the VAT element shown on your invoice.

PRICES REALISED

The hammer prices of lots sold at Noonans auctions are posted at www.noonans.co.uk in real time and telephone enquiries are welcome from 9 AM on the day after the auction.

PAYMENT

You may access your invoice shortly after the hammer has fallen on your last lot. As we weigh lots at the time of cataloguing most shipping is already calculated, enabling you to settle your account and receive your lots in a timely fashion. Auction attendees may pay and collect during the course of the auction as soon as they have bid on their last lot.

Naismith 2011 records two coins of Eadberht Praen struck by the moneyer Tidheah, both of which employ a different reverse type. The floral scroll which appears on this specimen recalls the coinage of Ecgbert, who gained use of the Canterbury moneyers following his victory over the Mercian King Offa at the battle of Otford in 776. The episode of Eadberht's reign represented another rejection of Merican overlordship, and it is tempting to view the presence of this iconographic element as a deliberate attempt to recall his predecessor.

The readings proposed above are tentative in the extreme. Mack recorded a single double-reverse mule (housed in the British Museum), noting the legends on that coin to be 'blundered and uncertain'. The same description probably applies here. If one tries particularly hard the 'reverse' can be made to Waldher on Nor. This, however, requires the legend to commence at 1 o'clock; an arrangement not commonly seen.

The method of manufacture for these farthings, and indeed other contemporary copper coins in Scotland and on the continent of Europe, was by die roller press. A copper fillet was fed between two rollers, one bearing 9 impressions of the obverse die and the other 9 impressions of the reverse die. Between the first and last die a vertical row of three pellets enabled the die wheels to be correctly aligned. The largest such strip previously known is of 9 farthings (British Museum, ex Weightman), from which the die combinations of the various extant strips, in public (and a few private) collections, have been worked out since the days of C. Wilson Peck. The only other strips of comparable size offered in recent years are of 7 farthings each (Cope Collection 1252, ex St James's Auction 10, lot 737, ex Colin Cooke, ex 'Herman Selig, Spink Auction 70, lot 114, ex Charles Firth, Spink Auction 6, lot 661; Norweb collection, dispersal untraced). STERLING OF DAVID I, CARLISLE, EREMBALD

Scottish Coins from Various Properties

David I (1124-1153)

A unique and unpublished Sterling of David I of Scotland from Carlisle A find of considerable historical and numismatic importance

- 342 Sterling, Carlisle, Erembald, castle of two storeys with battlements and crenellations, DAV-[ID?]-REX-[—], rev, EREBALD ON CA[—], cross moline, lis in angles, 1.17g/11h (SCBI —; Burns —; S —). Slight chip on one edge, good fine, UNIQUE and unpublished
£15,000-£20,000

Provenance: Found 2016

see EMC 2020.0374 for a stylistically similar reverse die.

The original medieval fortress at Carlisle was constructed in 1092, after the capture of the city from the Scots by William Rufus. Some thirty years later, Henry I decreed it be rebuilt in stone and 'fortified with a castle and towers'. This is probably the medieval keep that can be seen today, albeit much altered in the interim.

The death of Henry in France on 1 December 1135 altered his kingdom forever and initiated the Anarchy, a period of unrest played out around the disputed succession to throne between Henry's daughter Matilda and her cousin Stephen of Blois. Although the barons of the land had agreed to recognise Matilda, Stephen, on hearing of Henry's death, was quicker to return to England to stake his claim and was crowned in Westminster Abbey on 22 December.

Within a matter of days, David I of Scotland began an invasion of the north of England, ostensibly in support of Matilda who was his niece but more likely seeing an unexpected and unrivalled opportunity to regain territory in the disputed borderlands between the kingdoms.

Carlisle fell to the Scots before the end of January 1136 and possession was ratified by the first Treaty of Durham a few months later. David was quick to continue the fortification of the castle begun by Henry a decade earlier. According to Oram, Carlisle was one of David's favourite residences and he spent a great deal of time there. He died in his bedchamber in the tower of the castle in late May 1153.

The discovery of silver deposits near Carlisle in the 1120s led to the swift establishment of a mint where coins were struck of Henry I types XIV and XV. In the new reign, production of type I coinage continued, in Stephen's name, after the capture of the city by the Scots. This issue would have begun soon after Stephen's accession at Christmas 1135 and is generally considered to run until c. 1141-2. The moneyers were Erembald, Udard and Wilealme. Some pennies were produced in the name of David while retaining the familiar portrait style and reverse type. Erembald was again one of the moneyers - some of his coins also bearing an Edinburgh mint signature. It is during this period that the present coin would have been struck.

The exact occasion of its striking however can only be surmised. It was a tumultuous period of alliances, battles and treaties changing with the ebb and flow of the political and military struggle. In view of the obverse type, it may be to commemorate David's fortification of his new power base in Cumbria - an issue unparalleled in British medieval numismatics.

B 14, fig. 335; cf. S 5136). Slight edge chip, about very fine, very rare £300-£400

A rare and anomalous issue which is difficult to place in the chronology of the reign. Most specimens are well struck on large round flans but all lack the star on the sceptre handle which signified the weight reduction of 1366/7. The Ashmolean specimen at 4.02g is at the top of the normal weight range for Robert II Groats; the Davidson specimen (DNW 60, lot 372) weighed 3.53g although still struck on a full flan.

- 371 Sterling, Perth, mm. cross pattée on obv. only, star on sceptre handle, pellet (?) behind head, 0.92g/4h (cf. SCBI 35, 498ff; cf. B 8ff, fig. 322ff; cf. S 5150). About very fine £100-£150

The mark behind the head is a small, irregular pellet which may be a die flaw but it appears in the exact position where the field marks b or trefoil are sometimes found.

MASSACHUSETTS, OAK TREE SHILLING, 1652

£40,000–£50,000

Important American Numismatica

- x 477 MASSACHUSETTS, Oak Tree Shilling, 1652, oak tree, IN MASATHVSETS, rev. NEW ENGLAND AN DOM, date and denomination, 4.74g/12h (Noe 5; Salmon 3-D; Whitman 470). Virtually mint state, well struck with light golden toning over remarkably fresh surfaces; extremely rare in this condition [Graded NGC MS 65] £40,000-£50,000

Provenance: in the possession of an old British family for the last 300 years

A local coinage for New England was decreed in 1652 and the colonial government in Boston approached John Hull and Robert Sanderson, the only two skilled silversmiths in the colony to implement the policy. After a few false starts and alterations, the General Court decreed on October 19, 1652, that a round coinage with a design featuring a willow tree be implemented. Due to difficulties in producing the necessary dies and presses, the first Willow tree coin of any denomination wasn't struck until 1654.

Some years later, probably in 1660 or 1662, the design was altered to an oak tree and the striking technique was changed from the traditional hammered method to a rocker press. It is believed these were struck for only a few years, being replaced by the commoner Pine Tree type c. 1667. All the coins bear the date 1652 which suggests that this represents the year the coinage was authorised and not that in which the coin was made. In support of this theory, the only coin not originally authorised was the Twopence, which was introduced in 1662 and thus carried that date.

This, and the following four medals, represent a choice selection made from the Ford Sale in 2004 which have remained together, in the same collection, for the previous two decades. Together, they stand as a testament to one of the most fascinating and decisive episodes in Anglo-American History. More than that, they serve to demonstrate the greatest aesthetic potential of numismatic art, being, as they are, perfectly struck from dies of exceptionally fine style.

Provenance: Ex Andrew H.L. Paneyko (said to have been found in his great aunt's house); Christies Auction, New York, 13 October 1983, lot 55B; JJ Ford Collection (Part V), Stack's Auction, New York, 12 October 2004, lot 171 achieving a hammer price of $32,500

USS Constitution, under the command of Captain Isaac Hull, sailed from Boston on 2 August, 1812 and steered for the blustery waters southeast of Halifax, Nova Scotia. After two weeks of daily gun drills in preparation for combat, Hull and his crew sighted the British frigate HMS Guerriere, under the command of Captain James Richard Dacres, on the afternoon of August 19. Broadships were exchanged and musket fire caused casualties on both sides but Constitution's white oak hull was too strong for the British cannonballs. One American sailor was heard to exclaim, 'Huzza! Her sides are made of iron!' The severely damaged Guerriere was forced to surrender and by the morning, it was clear she could not be saved. Captain Hull made the difficult decision to scuttle the ship by igniting the powder in her magazines.

Provenance: J.J. Ford Collection (Part V), Stack's Auction, New York, 12 October 2004, lot 167 (from Eric Vaule December 8, 1966) achieving a hammer price of $22,000

On December 29, 1812, while cruising some thirty miles off the coast of Brazil, USS Constitution's masthead lookout sighted two ships on the horizon. Constitution, under the command of Commodore William Bainbridge, stood toward them, and the larger of the two, HMS Java, tacked toward the Americans. At first the British frigate had the better of the encounter, smashing the Constitution's wheel, the shot embedding a shard of copper shrapnel in Bainbridge's thigh. However, the Americans regained control of the vessel by steering directly from the tiller and over the course of the next hour, destroyed all of the Java's masts and rigging. After such a fierce engagement, HMS Java was devastated and her Captain mortally wounded. Of the ships broken remains Bainbridge writes '...every thing was blown up, except the officers baggage when we set her on fire on the 1st of January 1813 at 3 P.M. Nautical Time'. The defeat of Java, the second frigate lost to Constitution in six months, motivated a prudent change of tactics from the Royal Navy. No longer would their frigates be allowed to engage American frigates alone - from now on, only British ships-of-the-line or squadrons were permitted to come close enough to these ships to attack.

Provenance: J.J. Ford Collection (Part V), Stack's Auction, New York, 12 October 2004, lot 168 (from Frank Racine, November 1966) achieving a hammer price of $32,500

USS Wasp had orders to attack British shipping in the English Channel and had already captured seven ships. HMS Reindeer, under the command of Captain William Manners, was ordered to stop Wasp. The action began some 225 miles west of Plymouth in late afternoon. After some time spent manoeuvring, both vessels exchanged broadsides while almost dead in the water.

After twenty minutes' of firing, the two ships came into contact; some of the Reindeer crew tried to board Wasp but were beaten back. A wounded Commander Manners continued to urge on his crew until killed by a musket shot from Wasp's rigging. The American boarding parties followed up the repulse of the British crew by swarming aboard Reindeer. After driving the British crew below, they found the British captain's clerk, almost the only surviving officer of any rank, who surrendered. Reindeer was too badly damaged to be salvaged, so the Americans set her on fire.

Important American Numismatica

Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to cause gold medals to be struck, emblematical of the action between the two squadrons, and to present them to Captain Macdonough and Captain Robert Henley, and also to Lieutenant Stephen Cassin, in such manner as may be most honorable to them; and that the President be further requested to present a silver medal, with suitable emblems and devices, to each of the commissioned officers of the navy and army serving on board, and a sword to each of the midshipmen and sailing masters, who so nobly distinguished themselves in that memorable conflict.

Provenance: With Bowers & Ruddy Galleries, April 8, 1978; J.J. Ford Collection (Part V), Stack's Auction, New York 12 October 2004, lot 170 achieving a hammer price of $90,000

Born in James City County, Virginia, on the 5th January 1783, Robert Henley was educated at William and Mary College before obtaining a midshipman's warrant. Gallant service under Captain Truxtun (another recipient of the Congressional Gold Medal) and during the Tripolitan Campaign earned him several promotions, first to Lieutenant in 1807. His command of the U.S.S. Eagle, a 20 gun brig launched in August 1814, came just in time for participation in the Battle of Lake Champlain, on the 11th of September of that year.

Following the British defeat, the American Naval commander, Macdonough, reported to Congress that 'To Captain Robert Henley, of the Eagle, much is to be ascribed; his courage was conspicuous, and I most earnestly recommend him as worthy of the highest trust and confidence.' In response to this high praise Congress offered its thanks, and this gold medal.

There are very few Congressional gold naval medals known. The Ford cataloguer noted only those of Truxtun in the National Numismatic Collection, Cassin's sold by Sotheby's in April, 1960, Hull's in the U.S.S. Constitution Museum and that piece offered for sale here.

- x 482 U.S.A., Captain Thomas Macdonough. Master Commandant of the United States Naval Squadron on Lake Champlain, 11 September, 1814, a silver medal by M. Provenance: Stephen K. Nagy Estate; J.J. Ford Collection (Part V), Stack's Auction, 12 October 2004, lot 174 (from David Bullowa, March 1959) achieving a hammer price of $20,000

The Battle of Lake Champlain or the Battle of Plattsburgh was the culmination of a short campaign in the late summer of 1814 and ended the final British invasion of the northern states during the War of 1812. It was fought between the American ships USS Eagle, Preble and Ticonderoga and under the command of Thomas MacDonough on his flagship USS Saratoga and the British vessels HMS Chubb, Confiance, Finch and Linnet. After some hours of exchanges, the British ships were mostly damaged and forced to surrender, although there were losses on both sides.

The surviving British officers boarded Saratoga to offer their swords (of surrender) to Macdonough. When he saw the officers, Macdonough replied, "Gentlemen, return your swords to your scabbards, you are worthy of them"

The naval historian William Laird Clowes regarded Macdonough's victory as 'a most notable feat, one which, on the whole, surpassed that of any other captain of either navy in this war'.

CONGRESSIONAL GOLD NAVAL MEDAL
£40,000–£50,000

- 483 North West Company, copper Token, 1820, bust of George IV right, TOKEN above, date below, rev. beaver centre with inscription NORTH WEST COMPANY above and below, edge grained, 10.24g (Br. 925; FT. 10B). Customary piercing at 12 o'clock, toned with brown patina, some scuffs, otherwise very fine and extremely rare [slabbed NGC VF 35 BN] £6,000-£8,000

The Northwest Company was one of the most significant institutions involved in the North American fur trade during the late 18th and 19th centuries. Founded in Montreal in 1779, the Company grew to be the biggest competitor to the Hudson Bay Company. This token was issued in 1820, and valued at one beaver pelt, exchangeable in one of the Company's many outposts and supply stations in the Columbia and Oregon territories. The following year the company merged with the Hudson Bay Company, making this token a one year type. The tokens are believed to have been struck in Birmingham, by John Walker & Co, with examples most commonly struck in brass. This copper issue, therefore, is one of the rarest and most sought after examples of pre-federal Canadian currency.

- 484 U.S.A., Sir Charles Carroll of Carrollton, 1826, a silver medal by C. Gobrecht, draped bust left, rev. THE SURVIVING SIGNER OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE AFTER THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY within wreath, UPON ENTERING HIS 90TH YEAR above, date below, 50mm, 50.10g (Julian PE-6; BDM VII, 372; cf. Martin V, 1096). Bright from past polishing, some surface marks and more noticeable edge knocks, otherwise about extremely fine, extremely rare; in original maroon gilt-blocked case [this somewhat scuffed] £1,500-£2,000

As John Kraljevich remarked in his cataloguing of the Syd Martin specimen, the Carroll medals were distributed to family and friends, not numismatists, so nearly all were handled and polished over the years. David Tripp's study of this medal yielded a population of 17 silver medals and three in gold; six copper examples are known. It seems possible from the documentary evidence that the known silver and gold medals account for the entire original mintage, as the dies were extracted from the Mint and held by the family rather than left on deposit for decades of restriking. Forrer quotes from an article in The Numismatist, December 1911, quoting a biographical sketch of the artist, Christian Gobrecht, in which Carroll's grandson wrote "The impressions of the dies you [Gobrecht] sent me were very much admired by every one at a dinner given on the birthday of my grandfather, and pronounced excellent."

Sir Charles Carroll (1737-1832), the last surviving signatory of the Declaration of Independence in 1776, was known contemporaneously as the 'First Citizen' of the American colonies, a consequence of signing articles in the Maryland Gazette with that pen name. The product of a Jesuit education in France, he inherited vast estates upon his return to Annapolis in 1765 from reading law in London. Not initially interested in politics, as Catholics had been barred from holding office in the state since 1704, Carroll began to become a powerful voice for independence in the early 1770s and was a leading opponent of British rule. A delegate at the Annapolis Convention, which functioned as Maryland's revolutionary government prior to the Declaration of Independence, he was elected to the Continental Congress on 4 July 1776 and, after the deaths of Thomas Jefferson and John Adams on the same day, 4 July 1826, became the last living signatory of the Declaration. Reputed to be the wealthiest man in America at the time, Carroll presided over a 10,000-acre estate. A member of the Maryland Senate from 1781 to 1800, he was elected as one of the first senators from Maryland in 1789, but resigned in 1792 after the state passed a law barring individuals from serving in both state and federal offices simultaneously. Though he retired from public life in 1801, he helped to create the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in 1827 and he laid the foundation stone of the railroad on 4 July 1828

Provenance: Ex Stack's March 1976 sale of the John Work Garrett Collection for The Johns Hopkins University, lot 666; Blue Moon Collection, Stack's Auction, 30 March 2017, lot 2645

Barber's Indian Princess design on the obverse, adopted from the earlier Longacre design, shows a seated Liberty figure with an Indian headdress seated, holding a pole with Liberty cap, and supporting a globe with the word LIBERTY and flags behind. The reverse is a small perched eagle with olive branch and arrows in the talons. E PLURIBUS UNUM in a scroll above, IN GOD WE TRUST in a scroll below. The écu de Calonne was so-named after Charles-Alexandre de Calonne (1734-1802), the Controller-General of France appointed by Louis XVI in 1783. His unsuccessful efforts to reform the structure of France's finance and administration precipitated the governmental crisis that led to the French Revolution of 1789. Jean-Pierre Droz (1746-1823), the Swiss engraver first associated with the Monnaie de Paris in 1776, suggested improvements in the manufacture of the French coinage, in the form of a recoinage, in 1783. By 1786 he had produced his pattern écu, a version of which, utilising the same obverse die, was paired with a reverse petitioning Calonne for work (BDM I, 619). Droz devised a 'plateau' – a 6-segmented collar which enveloped the blank as it was struck and automatically split open once striking was finished, releasing the finished coin. The principal advantage of this was to allow a raised edge inscription to be applied to a coin within the tight confines of a collar. His efforts to sell the idea to the government failed because of the parlous state of the French economy, but the British entrepreneur Matthew Boulton, witnessing Droz's equipment at work first-hand in December 1786, seduced the Frenchman to come and work for him at Soho. A lengthy courtship concluded with Droz's move to England in September 1787

Provenance: C. Foley Collection, Woolley & Wallis Auction (Salisbury), 16 October 2014, lot 86

A service of thanksgiving for the victory was held at St Paul's Cathedral on 20 August 1588. The current piece was struck not in London but in Dordrecht, Holland, by Elizabeth's Protestant Dutch allies in the war against Spain.

- 561 Charles I, Coronation (?) [1626], uniface cliché silver counters (15), by N. Briot, bare headed bust right with ruff and ornate tunic, signed NBF below truncation, 26mm, each weighs between 0.89g and 1.17g (Platt I, p. 118, type C; Jones 127; MI I, 243/11) [15]. Mostly extremely fine; housed in a contemporary (?) silver box with similar counter set on lid, uncertain maker's mark stamped on base; the whole extremely rare £4,000-£5,000

The exact purpose of these medals is not known; Hawkins, followed by Platt, suggested that they were probably prepared under great time pressure for distribution at the coronation, with some worn by spectators.

Provenance: H. Montagu Collection, Sotheby Auction, 24-9 May 1897, lot 138; J.G. Murdoch Collection, 2 June 1904, lot 142; S. Stanley Collection; H. Farquhar Collection; Morton & Eden Auction 4, 21 May 2003, lot 1156

The medal presented here was produced in several, distinct, stages. No doubt, the magnificent bust came first; its workmanship being particularly fine and intricate. Next came the legend, of coarser style and incomplete. And, last of all, came the year of the king's death, fitted in miniscule by the truncation. What began as a trial piece ended up as a memorial medal.

YOUR BIDS MAY BE PLACED OVERLEAF

CONDITIONS MAINLY CONCERNING BUYERS

1 The buyer

The highest bidder shall be the buyer at the 'hammer price' and any dispute shall be settled at the auctioneer's absolute discretion. Every bidder shall be deemed to act as principal unless there is in force a written acknowledgement by Noonans Mayfair Ltd. ("Noonans") that he acts as agent on behalf of a named principal. Bids will be executed in the order that they are received.

2 Minimum increment

The auctioneer shall have the right to refuse any bid which does not conform to Noonans' published bidding increments which may be found at noonans.co.uk and in the bidding form included with the auction catalogue.

3 The premium

The buyer shall pay to Noonans a premium of 24% on the 'hammer price' and agrees that Noonans, when acting as agent for the seller, may also receive commission from the seller in accordance with Condition 16.

4 Value Added Tax (VAT)

The buyers' premium is subject to the current rate of Value Added Tax if the lot is delivered to or collected by the purchaser within the UK.

Lots marked 'X' are subject to importation VAT of 5% on the hammer price unless re-exported outside the UK, as per the conditions below.

Buyers who wish to hand carry their lots to export them from the UK will be charged VAT at the prevailing rate and importation VAT (where applicable) and will not be able to claim a VAT refund.

Buyers will only be able to secure a VAT free invoice and/or VAT refund if the goods are exported by Noonans or a pre-approved commercial shipper. Where the buyer instructs a pre-approved commercial shipper, proof of correct export out of the UK must be provided to Noonans by the buyer within 30 days of export and no later than 90 days from the date of the sale. Refunds are subject to a £50 administrative fee.

Lots marked '††' are subject to the Standard Rate of VAT, currently 20%, on both the hammer price and buyers' premium.

VAT can only be removed from the hammer price, if goods are exported by Noonans or a pre-approved commercial shipper as per above.

All lots will be subject to VAT on the buyers' premium regardless of whether the lot is exported.

5. Artist's Resale Rights (Droit de Suite)

Lots marked ARR in the catalogue indicate lots that may be subject to this royalty payment.

The royalty will be charged to the buyer on the 'hammer price' and is in addition to the buyers' premium. Royalties are charged on a sliding percentage scale as shown below but do not apply to lots where the hammer price is less than 1000 pounds sterling. All royalty charges are paid in full to The Design and Artists Copyright Society (DACS).

Portion of the hammer price	Royalties
From 0 to £50,000	4%
From £50,000.01 to £200,000	3%
From £200,000.01 to £350,000	1%
From £350,000.01 to £500,000	0.5%
Exceeding £500,000	0.25%

VAT does not apply to the Artist's Resale Rights.

6 Payment

When a lot is sold the buyer shall:

- (a) confirm to Noonans his or her name and address and, if so requested, give proof of identity; and
- (b) pay to Noonans the 'total amount due' in pounds sterling within five working days of the end of the sale (unless credit terms have been agreed with Noonans before the auction). Please note that we will not accept cash payments in excess of £5,000 (five thousand pounds) in settlement for purchases made at any one auction.

7 Noonans may, at its absolute discretion, agree credit terms with the buyer before an auction under which the buyer will be entitled to take possession of lots purchased up to an agreed amount in value in advance of payment by a determined future date of the 'total amount due'.

8 Any payments by a buyer to Noonans may be applied by Noonans towards any sums owing from that buyer to Noonans on any account whatever, without regard to any directions of the buyer, his or her agent, whether expressed or implied.

9 Collection of purchases

The ownership of the lot(s) purchased shall not pass to the buyer until he or she has made payment in full to Noonans of the 'total amount due' in pounds sterling.

10 (a) The buyer shall at his or her own expense take away the lot(s) purchased not later than 5 working days after the day of the auction but (unless credit terms have been agreed in accordance with Condition 7) not before payment to Noonans of the 'total amount due'.

(b) The buyer shall be responsible for any removal, storage and insurance charges on any lot not taken away within 5 working days after the day of the auction.

(c) The packing and handling of purchased lots by Noonans staff is undertaken solely as a courtesy to clients and, in the case of fragile articles, will be undertaken only at Noonans' discretion. In no event will Noonans be liable for damage to glass or frames, regardless of the cause. Bulky lots or sharp implements, etc., may not be suitable for in-house shipping.

11 Buyers' responsibilities for lots purchased

The buyer will be responsible for loss or damage to lots purchased from the time of collection or the expiry of 5 working days after the day of the auction, whichever is the sooner. Neither Noonans nor its servants or agents shall thereafter be responsible for any loss or damage of any kind, whether caused by negligence or otherwise, while any lot is in its custody or under its control.

Loss and damage warranty cover at the rate of 1.5% will be applied to any lots despatched by Noonans to destinations outside the UK, unless specifically instructed otherwise by the consignee.

12 Remedies for non-payment or failure to collect purchase

If any lot is not paid for in full and taken away in accordance with Conditions 6 and 10, or if there is any other breach of either of those Conditions, Noonans as agent of the seller shall, at its absolute discretion and without prejudice to any other rights it may have, be entitled to exercise one or more of the following rights and remedies:

- (a) to proceed against the buyer for damages for breach of contract.
- (b) to rescind the sale of that or any other lots sold to the defaulting buyer at the same or any other auction.
- (c) to re-sell the lot or cause it to be re-sold by public auction or private sale and the defaulting buyer shall pay to Noonans any resulting deficiency in the 'total amount due' (after deduction of any part payment and addition of re-sale costs) and any surplus shall belong to the seller.
- (d) to remove, store and insure the lot at the expense of the defaulting buyer and, in the case of storage, either at Noonans' premises or elsewhere.
- (e) to charge interest at a rate not exceeding 2 percent per month on the 'total amount due' to the extent it remains unpaid for more than 5 working days after the day of the auction.
- (f) to retain that or any other lot sold to the same buyer at the sale or any other auction and release it only after payment of the 'total amount due'.
- (g) to reject or ignore any bids made by or on behalf of the defaulting buyer at any future auctions or obtaining a deposit before accepting any bids in future.
- (h) to apply any proceeds of sale then due or at any time thereafter becoming due to the defaulting buyer towards settlement of the 'total amount due' and to exercise a lien on any property of the defaulting buyer which is in Noonans' possession for any purpose.

13 Liability of Noonans and sellers

(a) Goods auctioned are usually of some age. All goods are sold with all faults and imperfections and errors of description. Illustrations in catalogues are for identification only. Buyers should satisfy themselves prior to the sale as to the condition of each lot and should exercise and rely on their own judgement as to whether the lot accords with its description. Subject to the obligations accepted by Noonans under this Condition, none of the seller, Noonans, its servants or agents is responsible for errors of descriptions or for the genuineness or authenticity of any lot. No warranty whatever is given by Noonans, its servants or agents, or any seller to any buyer in respect of any lot and any express or implied conditions or warranties are hereby excluded.

(b) Any lot which proves to be a 'deliberate forgery' may be returned by the buyer to Noonans within 15 days of the date of the auction in the same condition in which it was at the time of the auction, accompanied by a statement of defects, the number of the lot, and the date of the auction at which it was purchased. If Noonans is satisfied that the item is a 'deliberate forgery' and that the buyer has and is able to transfer a good and marketable title to the lot free from any third party claims, the sale will be set aside and any amount paid in respect of the lot will be refunded, provided that the buyer shall have no rights under this Condition if:

- (i) the description in the catalogue at the date of the sale was in accordance with the then generally accepted opinion of scholars and experts or fairly indicated that there was a conflict of such opinion; or
- (ii) the only method of establishing at the date of publication of the catalogue that the lot was a 'deliberate forgery' was by means of scientific processes not generally accepted for use until after publication of the catalogue or a process which was unreasonably expensive or impractical.

(c) A buyer's claim under this Condition shall be limited to any amount paid in respect of the lot and shall not extend to any loss or damage suffered or expense incurred by him or her.

(d) The benefit of the Condition shall not be assignable and shall rest solely and exclusively in the buyer who, for the purpose of this condition, shall be and only be the person to whom the original invoice is made out by Noonans in respect of the lot sold.

CONDITIONS MAINLY CONCERNING SELLERS AND CONSIGNORS

14 Warranty of title and availability

The seller warrants to Noonans and to the buyer that he or she is the true owner of the property or is properly authorised to sell the property by the true owner and is able to transfer good and marketable title to the property free from any third party claims. The seller will indemnify Noonans, its servants and agents and the buyer against any loss or damage suffered by either in consequence of any breach on the part of the seller.

15 Reserves

The seller shall be entitled to place, prior to the first day of the auction, a reserve at or below the low estimate on any lot provided that the low estimate is more than £100. Such reserve being the minimum 'hammer price' at which that lot may be treated as sold. A reserve once placed by the seller shall not be changed without the consent of Noonans. Noonans may at their option sell at a 'hammer price' below the reserve but in any such cases the sale proceeds to which the seller is entitled shall be the same as they would have been had the sale been at the reserve. Where a reserve has been placed, only the auctioneer may bid on behalf of the seller.

16 Authority to deduct commission and expenses

The seller authorises Noonans to deduct commission at the 'stated rate' and 'expenses' from the 'hammer price' and acknowledges Noonans' right to retain the premium payable by the buyer.

17 Rescission of sale

If before Noonans remit the 'sale proceeds' to the seller, the buyer makes a claim to rescind the sale that is appropriate and Noonans is of the opinion that the claim is justified, Noonans is authorised to rescind the sale and refund to the buyer any amount paid to Noonans in respect of the lot.

18 Payment of sale proceeds

Noonans shall remit the 'sale proceeds' to the seller 35 days after the auction, but if by that date Noonans has not received the 'total amount due' from the buyer then Noonans will remit the sale proceeds within five working days after the date on which the 'total amount due' is received from the buyer. If credit terms have been agreed between Noonans and the buyer, Noonans shall remit to the seller the sale proceeds 35 days after the auction unless otherwise agreed by the seller.

19 If the buyer fails to pay to Noonans the 'total amount due' within 35 days after the auction, Noonans will endeavour to notify the seller and take the seller's instructions as to the appropriate course of action and, so far as in Noonans' opinion is practicable, will assist the seller to recover the 'total amount due' from the buyer. If circumstances do not permit Noonans to take instructions from the seller, the seller authorises Noonans at the seller's expense to agree special terms for payment of the 'total amount due', to remove, store and insure the lot sold, to settle claims made by or against the buyer on such terms as Noonans shall in its absolute discretion think fit, to take such steps as are necessary to collect monies due by the buyer to the seller and if necessary to rescind the sale and refund money to the buyer if appropriate.

20 If, notwithstanding that, the buyer fails to pay to Noonans the 'total amount due' within 35 days after the auction and Noonans remits the 'sale proceeds' to the seller, the ownership of the lot shall pass to Noonans.

21 Charges for withdrawn lots

Where a seller cancels instructions for sale, Noonans reserve the right to charge a fee of 15% of Noonans' then latest middle estimate of the auction price of the property withdrawn, together with Value Added Tax thereon if the seller is resident in the UK, and 'expenses' incurred in relation to the property.

22 Rights to photographs and illustrations

The seller gives Noonans full and absolute right to photograph and illustrate any lot placed in its hands for sale and to use such photographs and illustrations and any photographs and illustrations provided by the seller at any time at its absolute discretion (whether or not in connection with the auction).

23 Unsold lots

Where any lot fails to sell, Noonans shall notify the seller accordingly. The seller shall make arrangements either to re-offer the lot for sale or to collect the lot.

24 Noonans reserve the right to charge commission up to one-half of the 'stated rates' calculated on the 'bought-in price' and in addition 'expenses' in respect of any unsold lots.

28 Noonans shall have the right, at its discretion, to refuse admission to its premises or attendance at its auctions by any person.

29 Noonans has absolute discretion without giving any reason to refuse any bid, to divide any lot, to combine any two or more lots, to withdraw any lot from the auction and in case of dispute to put up any lot for auction again.

31 Any notice by Noonans to a seller, consignor, prospective bidder or buyer may be given by first class mail, airmail or email and if so given shall be deemed to have been duly received by the addressee within 48 hours.

32 These Conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law. All transactions to which these Conditions apply and all matters connected therewith shall also be governed by English law. Noonans hereby submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts and all other parties concerned hereby submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts.

(d) 'deliberate forgery' means an imitation made with the intention of deceiving as to authorship, origin, date, age, period, culture or source which is not shown to be such in the description in the catalogue and which at the date of the sale had a value materially less than it would have had if it had been in accordance with that description;

(e) 'sale proceeds' means the net amount due to the seller being the 'hammer price' of the lot sold less commission at the 'stated rates' and 'expenses' and any other amounts due to Noonans by the seller in whatever capacity and howsoever arising;

(f) 'stated rate' means Noonans' published rates of commission for the time and any Value Added Tax thereon;

(g) 'expenses' in relation to the sale of any lot means Noonans charges and expenses for insurance, illustrations, special advertising, certification, remedials, packing and freight of that lot and any Value Added Tax thereon;

(h) 'bought-in price' means 5 per cent more than the highest bid received below the reserve.

34 Vendors' commission of sales

A commission of 15% is payable by the vendor on the hammer price on lots sold.

Insurance is charged at 1.5% of the hammer price.

35 VAT

Commission, illustrations, insurance and expenses are subject to VAT if the seller is resident in the UK.
