SUMMARY OF INFORMATION FOR BUYERS

REGISTERING TO BID

New clients must register online to bid (whether in person or in absentia). This can be done via our website www.noonans.co.uk

Registrations will be subject to due diligence and Noonans reserves the right to cancel registrations.

Once registered, any client bidding for the first time online will need to enter their card details so that a security check can be performed to authorise you to bid (www.noonans.co.uk >Your Account > Account Authorisation). This check is secure, your card details are not seen by us and no funds will be deducted.

BIDDING PRIORITY

Please note that we prioritise executing commission bids as early as possible in order to secure the lot for you at the cheapest possible price. It is therefore entirely possible that a lot can sell at your top bid to another bidder. To avoid this happening we offer an optional 'Plus 1' bidding increment facility, whereby if the bidding is against you at your maximum bid the auctioneer will execute one further bid on your behalf. Please note that in the event of identical top bids priority is given to the first bid received.

PLACING BIDS

LIVE BIDDING VIA WWW.NOONANS.CO.UK

You may bid in real time from your computer or mobile device. We provide an optional live video and audio feed of the auctioneer, allowing you to participate in much the same way as attending the auction. You may see your invoice and pay online directly after you've finished bidding. There is no additional charge for this facility.

ADVANCE BIDDING VIA WWW.NOONANS.CO.UK

We strongly advise this method if you wish to leave bids in advance as it is the easiest, most accurate and flexible way to leave your bids and gives you total control over them right up to the point that the lot is offered for sale. Bids made online cannot be seen by others and only become live at the point the lot is being sold. Up until this time your bids can be easily altered or cancelled. An automated email is sent to confirm any changes made. There is no additional charge for online bidding.

ADVANCE BIDDING VIA POST, EMAIL OR TELEPHONE

Whilst we are still happy to execute all bids submitted to us using post, email or telephone, it should be noted that all bids left with us in these ways will be entered at our offices using exactly the same bidding facility to which all our clients have access. There is, therefore, no better way of ensuring the accuracy of your advance bids than to place them yourself online.

If you are registered with Noonans you may bid by email to bids@noonans.co.uk or by telephone to 020 7016 1700. All bids placed by email or telephone must be received before 4 PM on the day preceding the sale.

A bidding form is included in the back of this catalogue. If you wish to use this please fill it in carefully, to include all relevant information. Please ensure that you post this form so that it arrives, at the latest, the day before the sale.

BIDDING IN THE AUCTION ROOM

You are very welcome to attend the auction and bid in person if you are registered with Noonans.

Please note that the auction room is situated on the third floor of a Georgian building which doesn't have a lift. You may pay for and collect your lots during the auction.

SALEROOM NOTICES

Should the description of a lot need to be amended after the publication of this catalogue, the amendments will appear automatically on the Noonans website, www.noonans.co.uk. All such amendments are also incorporated in the List of Saleroom Notices pertaining to this auction which are posted separately on the website. The auctioneer will refer to any notices at the time any affected lot is offered for sale.

CATALOGUE ILLUSTRATIONS & THE INTERNET

Prospective bidders are reminded that the Noonans website features high-resolution colour illustrations of every lot in this auction. There may also be additional illustrations of any lot.

BUYERS' PREMIUM

The rate for this sale is 24% of the Hammer Price (+ VAT where applicable).

IMPORTATION VAT

Lots marked 'X' are subject to importation VAT of 5% on the Hammer Price unless re-exported outside the UK, as per Noonans Terms & Conditions of Business.

From 1 January 2021 importation VAT may be levied by EU countries on lots sold by Noonans and subsequently imported into those countries. Although Noonans is unable to advise buyers on customs regulations in their country of domicile, there is further information regarding EU importation VAT rates for collectable items in the Terms and Conditions published on the Noonans website.

BULLION LOTS

Lots marked 'G' will have the VAT element shown on your invoice.

PRICES REALISED

The hammer prices of lots sold at Noonans auctions are posted at www.noonans.co.uk in real time and telephone enquiries are welcome from 9 AM on the day after the auction.

PAYMENT

You may access your invoice shortly after the hammer has fallen on your last lot. As we weigh lots at the time of cataloguing most shipping is already calculated, enabling you to settle your account and receive your lots in a timely fashion. Auction attendees may pay and collect during the course of the auction as soon as they have bid on their last lot.

THE BURY ST EDMUNDS HOARD

The Bury St Edmunds hoard was found in two parcels by Tom Licence, Professor of Medieval History and Literature at the University of East Anglia, in a field in Babergh, south-west of Bury St Edmunds. Between the 24th and 26th of October 2024 Tom discovered 16 full gold Iron Age Staters and one quarter-Stater, and these were promptly reported to the FLO and were declared treasure (2024 T1422; SF-03C894). Tom returned to the site a few months later in April 2025 and found one more Stater (2025 T558; SF-9BF314). Together these finds represent the largest known hoard of gold coins to be deposited in the reign of the Trinovantian King Dubnovellaunos, far surpassing in size and significance that found in September 2017 at Braintree, Essex (2017 T854; SF-FA65C9).

All of the Staters in the hoard are inscribed and they can be attributed to two figures: Addedomaros and Dubnovellaunos. In the catalogue below we follow the arrangement in Chris Rudd's Ancient British Coins and assign these leaders to different tribes: the Catuvellauni and the Trinovantes respectively. As ever with British Iron Age numismatics, this simplicity masks a lot of hidden complexity. Addedomaros' kingdom appears to have expanded to include much Trinovantian territory and it is possible that he was Dubnovellaunos' father, an argument supported by stylistic links between their coinages (compare lots 2001 and 2015 below). Addedomaros was probably the first king north of the Thames to produce an inscribed coinage, but beyond that we know frustratingly little about him.

Dubnovellaunos ruled the Trinovantes, and at some point held sway in Kent as well; he is mentioned in the Emperor Augustus' Res Gestae as having sought refuge in Rome. The findspot of this hoard, which sits a day's walk from Colchester to the south and Bury St Edmunds to the north, is directly at the heart of Trinovantian territory. John Sills has suggested, on account of die sequencing, that Bury St Edmunds Hoard was concealed during the reign of Dubnovellaunos, for the hoard omits the ruler's last two issues. The chronology of the reigns of both rulers is confusing and continues to be debated by scholars; the dates given in this catalogue are again those used in Rudd's ABC.

Tom was drawn to the findspot because of its geography, with the field rising up from a nearby stream in a gentle gradient. After digging a couple of signals, he noticed the dark silty soil which had been deposited by the flow of an ancient water course. Upon talking with the landowner, Tom discovered that the end of the field had once been an ancient water meadow before being turned over to the plough. The landowner had found multiple intact crotal bells, and had built up a substantial collection, which suggested that the field remained largely untouched as these artefacts easily break up after periods of cultivation. Shortly after, Tom found half a Hod Hill brooch, and was thus determined to find more evidence of Iron Age and Roman activity.

On October 24th 2024, Tom began investigating the field in question more seriously. Initially he found a Sestertius of Claudius, followed by two pieces of Viking hack silver. As he continued he was met with a strange dull signal, normally characteristic of bronze; after some digging “the unmistakable chunky wonder of a full gold Stater” was revealed. Tom meticulously gridded out the area and utilised a 15” coil to further his investigation. On that first day, six Staters were unearthed. Over following days he widened his search, venturing south and then west of the slope; soon enough, more coins appeared. After three days of hard work, a total of 17 coins were found.

In his discussion of microtopography Philip de Jersey (2014) notes that “among the hoards deposited on the brow of a hill there appears to be a clear preference for burial on east-facing slopes”. This hoard fits that pattern perfectly, with coins discovered just below the crest of a slope on the east-facing side, and no more coins were found to the north. Tom believes the “morning sun illuminating the hill-crest and a spring rising at the same spot” is a combination that could point to this hoard, and others like it, having a religious significance.

Tom started metal detecting as a young boy, but took a more serious interest in the hobby 1994 as a young man. Whilst walking through Rye in East Sussex, he found a Charles I Rose Farthing in a flower bed, which immediately captured his imagination. When Tom isn't busy with his Academic work he is out detecting alongside his trusty 'Mandy' Manticore detector. Mandy proved to be very reliable, as this new discovery is the largest and arguably the most important hoard of Dubnovellaunos coins to have been unearthed. He also writes about his detecting finds in the Searcher magazine, within which an article on this hoard was published in June 2025. Tom and the landowner have chosen to keep a single Stater each, and the remaining 16 coins are offered below. After splitting the money with the landowner, Tom plans to use some of the money raised to support local archaeological work in Suffolk.

This and the following two coins were found as part of scattered hoard up in Richmondshire, North Yorkshire. During the eight and ninth centuries the Kingdom of Northumbria employed a quite distinct monetary system, and it seems in normal times that Southumbrian broad pennies were effectively excluded from circulating. Such coins very rarely appear as single finds, and the discovery of hoards from that region is extremely rare.

Beyond what is offered here the hoard also comprised a pair of Pennies of Æthelstan I of East Anglia (c. 826-40), a Penny of Cuthred of Kent (798-807), a Penny of Wulfred (805-32) and a Penny of Ecgberht of Wessex (802-39). The latter coin, which passed through these rooms in June 2022 (lot 124), provides the terminus post quem for the Richmondshire Hoard. A London issue, it belongs to Ecgberht's brief occupation of the Mercian city in 829-30.

A Penny of 'Neatishead'

- 2038 Penny, Bust Crowned type, Neatishead?, Leofing, +EADGAR REX around crowned and draped bust of East Anglia style right, rev. +LEOFING MONETA NT, small cross, 1.42g/9h (CTCE –; cf. Provenance: Collier Collection, Noonans Auction 337, 9 September 2025, lot 1108; Found near Thetford in 2023 (Recorded on the EMC 2025.0288)

Blunt, Lyon and Stewart (CTCE, p.195) recorded two pennies signed by the moneyer Boge with unusual reverse legends; one reading MONETA NEAT, and the other MONETA N. The former was discovered just seven miles from the Norfolk village of Neatishead. To this we can add a halfpenny in the Fitzwilliam Collection, found near Narborough with the reading [-]ONETA NE[-] and the current specimen. All four coins are quite clearly linked together on the basis of style and, where known, find spot.

The authors of CTCE, following an earlier article by Christopher Blunt, acknowledged the possibility that NEAT was to be recognised as mint signature for Neatishead, but also raised the alternative that these letters represent 'a slightly blundered repetition of the final letters of Moneta'. The new expanded corpus is helpful here; the signature on all four pennies begins with the letter N, and it is difficult to accept that this consistency was the result of random blundering. Add to this the fact that the dies are otherwise quite literate and well produced, and it seems clear that we should take the final letters at face value; a mint signature of NEAT, variously abbreviated. The signature on the current coin, 'NT' appears to be a contraction made by omitting vowels, an unusual arrangement but one certainly evidenced in the late Saxon coinage (cf. BEH Æthelred II 639, 3162, 3451, 3465).

As to the suitability of Neatishead to be a candidate for an Anglo-Saxon minting place we may return to Blunt's note (SNC September 1985), where it is concluded that 'NEAT is both an acceptable form for Neatishead and one that is more probable than the other possible candidates.'

On the 25th March 1940 Mr Baker found in his garden at Chantry Cottages a hoard of 120 medieval gold coins. Giving evidence before the Coroner Mr Baker recalled 'I was digging in my garden and found a lot of ivy growing along the flint wall. Several weeks ago I cut the roots down to ground level, and on March 25 I intended to kill the roots. Upon getting down to the roots I unearthed the pot. It was the depth of my fork and a little farther down. I should say a couple of feet. The top of the pot was broken when I picked it up, but I did not find the other part. I took it indoors and showed it to my wife and the found that there was something in the pot, but did not think it was anything of value. We had to shake the coins to get them out, and they were all stuck together. We washed them and they came up as new.

2136 First issue, Penny, mm. lis, bust 1H, wire line inner circle, reads E D G ROSA SINE SPINA and dated 1558 on obverse with colon over the last 8, rev. reads CIVITAS LONDON in four quarters divided by long cross fourchée over square shield, 0.46g/11h (BCW LS-1; LS-a1; N 1988; S 2554). Slightly crimped, otherwise good fine and with an attractive dark tone, the legend and reverse are particularly sharp; extremely rare with only five other examples known to the cataloguer £1,200-£1,500

Provenance: Found in Lancashire, February 2025

This remarkable find from Lancashire, which we believe to now be the fifth example known, shares its obverse die with the specimen currently housed in the British Museum. The reverse die unknown to Brown, Comber and Wilkinson, brings the total of known dies to three. The coin in the British Museum is damaged, however the colon over the extra '8' is visible. The error on this coin is much clearer, making this coin especially desirable and thus presents a rare opportunity for collectors.

Johann Wilhelm took control of Jülich-Berg in 1679 from his father, Philipp Wilhelm, who remained Elector Palatine until 1690. As Elector, he became entangled in the Wars of the Palatine and Spanish Successions and, as a firm Counter-Reformation ruler, drew hostility from Protestant princes. Known locally as “Jan Wellem,” he left a cultural legacy through his Düsseldorf art collection, the new Heidelberg University, and the rebuilding of Mannheim. His role as Imperial Vicar after Emperor Joseph I’s death was a particular distinction, commemorated on coins and medals such as this double ducat.

John Lilburne (1614-57), a Puritan who converted to the Quaker religion in the year before his death, fought for the Parliamentarians in the Civil War and was present at Edge Hill and Marston Moor, although between these two engagements he had been captured by royalists while in the parliamentary garrison at Brentford. An agitator for the freeborn rights of Englishmen, he spent most of the later 1640s incarcerated in the Tower for denouncing his former military commander, the Earl of Manchester, as a royalist sympathiser. A campaign to free him spawned a new political party, the Levellers, which had a strong following in the New Model Army although Lilburne had begun to see the reality of life under Cromwell's diktat and his supporters actively agitated for King Charles's son, in exile in France, to finance the Leveller movement. Parliament passed a motion for Lilburne to be tried for high treason, as the King had been, but unlike the case of the monarch, a jury of 12 would decide Lilburne's fate. The trial, which started on 24 October 1649, lasted two days and the jury, whose names are on the reverse of the medal, found him not guilty. For the next two years Lilburne remained politically inactive, but after a dispute concerning the ownership of collieries in his native co Durham, he was sentenced to pay a fine of £3,000 to the state and was banished for life

£8,000-£10,000

Born on the 10th May, 1800, Rowland Hill was the youngest addition to the well-established and highly renowned Hill military family. His father, Rowland Hill Sr., as well as his uncles Robert, Clement, and Thomas, were all decorated army officers who served with distinction during the Napoleonic Wars. All four were present at Waterloo, with his father personally leading a cavalry charge against the French Old Guard.

Educated at Oriel College, Oxford, Hill entered politics immediately upon graduating. He was returned to Parliament as an MP for Shropshire in 1821, whilst simultaneously undertaking a short stint in the Royal Horse Guards. He had a relatively reserved and uncontroversial career in politics, eventually ascending to the House of Lords in 1842, and finally being appointed as Lord Lieutenant of Shropshire.

Despite his career, his main passion was always agriculture. Hill always took a keen interest in the management of his and his wife's inherited estates near Shrewsbury. Unlike many of his contemporaries, Hill made great efforts to commercialise his estates and improve the quality of his stock. Hill and his tenant farmers attended agricultural fairs up and down the west of England throughout the 1840s and 50s. The sheer number of awards he won demonstrate just how effective Hill was in his field.

The youngest of 23 children, Marcus Wilson was born in Kilkenny, Ireland, in 1896. A keen sportsman and highly coveted academic, Wilson graduated in 1922 with a first in Law, before passing his Bar exam shortly after.

Like many of his contemporaries, Wilson went on to join the Colonial Service in 1924, first being posted to Tanganyika, then later as a magistrate in Uganda. A fruitful career in Africa continued throughout the interwar years, culminating in a stint as a Colonel in the Tanganyika Territorials during the Second World War. The post-war era brought about more lucrative appointments, including becoming Lord Chief Justice of the Gold Coast (Ghana) between 1948-56, during which he was Knighted by George VI in the 1950 Birthday Honours. Wilson died in Accra, Ghana, on the 10th April 1956, after which he was succeeded by Kobina Arku Korsah, the first African man to hold the post.

- (g) to reject or ignore any bids made by or on behalf of the defaulting buyer at any future auctions or obtaining a deposit before accepting any bids in future.
- (h) to apply any proceeds of sale then due or at any time thereafter becoming due to the defaulting buyer towards settlement of the 'total amount due' and to exercise a lien on any property of the defaulting buyer which is in Noonans' possession for any purpose.

13 Liability of Noonans and sellers

(a) Goods auctioned are usually of some age. All goods are sold with all faults and imperfections and errors of description. Illustrations in catalogues are for identification only. Buyers should satisfy themselves prior to the sale as to the condition of each lot and should exercise and rely on their own judgement as to whether the lot accords with its description. Subject to the obligations accepted by Noonans under this Condition, none of the seller, Noonans, its servants or agents is responsible for errors of descriptions or for the genuineness or authenticity of any lot. No warranty whatever is given by Noonans, its servants or agents, or any seller to any buyer in respect of any lot and any express or implied conditions or warranties are hereby excluded.

(b) Any lot which proves to be a 'deliberate forgery' may be returned by the buyer to Noonans within 15 days of the date of the auction in the same condition in which it was at the time of the auction, accompanied by a statement of defects, the number of the lot, and the date of the auction at which it was purchased. If Noonans is satisfied that the item is a 'deliberate forgery' and that the buyer has and is able to transfer a good and marketable title to the lot free from any third party claims, the sale will be set aside and any amount paid in respect of the lot will be refunded, provided that the buyer shall have no rights under this Condition if:

- (i) the description in the catalogue at the date of the sale was in accordance with the then generally accepted opinion of scholars and experts or fairly indicated that there was a conflict of such opinion; or
- (ii) the only method of establishing at the date of publication of the catalogue that the lot was a

'deliberate forgery' was by means of scientific processes not generally accepted for use until after publication of the catalogue or a process which was unreasonably expensive or impractical.

(c) A buyer's claim under this Condition shall be limited to any amount paid in respect of the lot and shall not extend to any loss or damage suffered or expense incurred by him or her.

(d) The benefit of the Condition shall not be assignable and shall rest solely and exclusively in the buyer who, for the purpose of this condition, shall be and only be the person to whom the original invoice is made out by Noonans in respect of the lot sold.

CONDITIONS MAINLY CONCERNING SELLERS AND CONSIGNORS

14 Warranty of title and availability

The seller warrants to Noonans and to the buyer that he or she is the true owner of the property or is properly authorised to sell the property by the true owner and is able to transfer good and marketable title to the property free from any third party claims. The seller will indemnify Noonans, its servants and agents and the buyer against any loss or damage suffered by either in consequence of any breach on the part of the seller.

15 Reserves

The seller shall be entitled to place, prior to the first day of the auction, a reserve at or below the low estimate on any lot provided that the low estimate is more than £100. Such reserve being the minimum 'hammer price' at which that lot may be treated as sold. A reserve once placed by the seller shall not be changed without the consent of Noonans. Noonans may at their option sell at a 'hammer price' below the reserve but in any such cases the sale proceeds to which the seller is entitled shall be the same as they would have been had the sale been at the reserve. Where a reserve has been placed, only the auctioneer may bid on behalf of the seller.

16 Authority to deduct commission and expenses

The seller authorises Noonans to deduct commission at the 'stated rate' and 'expenses' from the 'hammer price' and acknowledges Noonans' right to retain the premium payable by the buyer.

17 Rescission of sale

If before Noonans remit the 'sale proceeds' to the seller, the buyer makes a claim to rescind the sale that is appropriate and Noonans is of the opinion that the claim is justified, Noonans is authorised to rescind the sale and refund to the buyer any amount paid to Noonans in respect of the lot.

18 Payment of sale proceeds

Noonans shall remit the 'sale proceeds' to the seller 35 days after the auction, but if by that date Noonans has not received the 'total amount due' from the buyer then Noonans will remit the sale proceeds within five working days after the date on which the 'total amount due' is received from the buyer. If credit terms have been agreed between Noonans and the buyer, Noonans shall remit to the seller the sale proceeds 35 days after the auction unless otherwise agreed by the seller.

19 If the buyer fails to pay to Noonans the 'total amount due' within 35 days after the auction, Noonans will endeavour to notify the seller and take the seller's instructions as to the appropriate course of action and, so far as in Noonans' opinion is practicable, will assist the seller to recover the 'total amount due' from the buyer. If circumstances do not permit Noonans to take instructions from the seller, the seller authorises Noonans at the seller's expense to agree special terms for payment of the 'total amount due', to remove, store and insure the lot sold, to settle claims made by or against the buyer on such terms as Noonans shall in its absolute discretion think fit, to take such steps as are necessary to collect monies due by the buyer to the seller and if necessary to rescind the sale and refund money to the buyer if appropriate.

20 If, notwithstanding that, the buyer fails to pay to Noonans the 'total amount due' within 35 days after the auction and Noonans remits the 'sale proceeds' to the seller, the ownership of the lot shall pass to Noonans.

21 Charges for withdrawn lots

Where a seller cancels instructions for sale, Noonans reserve the right to charge a fee of 15% of Noonans' then latest middle estimate of the auction price of the property withdrawn, together with Value Added Tax thereon if the seller is resident in the UK, and 'expenses' incurred in relation to the property.

22 Rights to photographs and illustrations

The seller gives Noonans full and absolute right to photograph and illustrate any lot placed in its hands for sale and to use such photographs and illustrations and any photographs and illustrations provided by the seller at any time at its absolute discretion (whether or not in connection with the auction).

23 Unsold lots

Where any lot fails to sell, Noonans shall notify the seller accordingly. The seller shall make arrangements either to re-offer the lot for sale or to collect the lot.

24 Noonans reserve the right to charge commission up to one-half of the 'stated rates' calculated on the 'bought-in price' and in addition 'expenses' in respect of any unsold lots.

GENERAL CONDITIONS AND DEFINITIONS

25 Noonans sells as agent for the seller (except where it is stated wholly or partly to own any lot as principal) and as such is not responsible for any default by seller or buyer.

26 Any representation or statement by Noonans, in any catalogue as to authorship, attribution, genuineness, origin, date, age, provenance, condition or estimated selling price is a statement of opinion only. Every person interested should exercise and rely on his or her own judgement as to such matters and neither Noonans nor its servants or agents are responsible for the correctness of such opinions.

27 Whilst the interests of prospective buyers are best served by attendance at the auction, Noonans will, if so instructed, execute bids on their behalf. Neither Noonans nor its servants or agents are responsible for any neglect or default in doing so or for failing to do so.

28 Noonans shall have the right, at its discretion, to refuse admission to its premises or attendance at its auctions by any person.

29 Noonans has absolute discretion without giving any reason to refuse any bid, to divide any lot, to combine any two or more lots, to withdraw any lot from the auction and in case of dispute to put up any lot for auction again.

30 (a) Any indemnity under these Conditions shall extend to all actions, proceedings costs, expenses, claims and demands whatever incurred or suffered by the person entitled to the benefit of the indemnity.

(b) Noonans declares itself to be a trustee for its relevant servants and agents of the benefit of every indemnity under these Conditions to the extent that such indemnity is expressed to be for the benefit of its servants and agents.

31 Any notice by Noonans to a seller, consignor, prospective bidder or buyer may be given by first class mail, airmail or email and if so given shall be deemed to have been duly received by the addressee within 48 hours.

32 These Conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law. All transactions to which these Conditions apply and all matters connected therewith shall also be governed by English law. Noonans hereby submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts and all other parties concerned hereby submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts.

33 In these Conditions:

(d) 'deliberate forgery' means an imitation made with the intention of deceiving as to authorship, origin, date, age, period, culture or source which is not shown to be such in the description in the catalogue and which at the date of the sale had a value materially less than it would have had if it had been in accordance with that description;

(e) 'sale proceeds' means the net amount due to the seller being the 'hammer price' of the lot sold less commission at the 'stated rates' and 'expenses' and any other amounts due to Noonans by the seller in whatever capacity and howsoever arising;

(f) 'stated rate' means Noonans' published rates of commission for the time and any Value Added Tax thereon;

(g) 'expenses' in relation to the sale of any lot means Noonans charges and expenses for insurance, illustrations, special advertising, certification, remedials, packing and freight of that lot and any Value Added Tax thereon;

(h) 'bought-in price' means 5 per cent more than the highest bid received below the reserve.

34 Vendors' commission of sales

A commission of 15% is payable by the vendor on the hammer price on lots sold.

Insurance is charged at 1.5% of the hammer price.

35 VAT

Commission, illustrations, insurance and expenses are subject to VAT if the seller is resident in the UK.
